TRAFFIC BLOCKADE IN THE RUHR IS RAISED

President Guest Of American Neighbors

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—President and Mrs. Harding disembarked from the U. S. naval transport Henderson and stepped foot on Canadian soil here today at 11 o'clock.

ON BOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, July 26.—President Harding looking forward to this epochal day in the Canadian city of Vancouver, B. C.

Not alone has the chief executive dreamed of a visit to Alaska, a dream now realized—but he has looked forward to the time when he would be able to stand on Canadian soil, something which has been done by no American president.

Mr. Harding has ever had a deep admiration for the Canadian people and members of the party with which he toured Alaska and came south on the navy transport Henderson said that he was filled with pleasure about being about to greet the Canadians in their own country and further cement the friendship, more than a century which has existed between the people of Canada and the people of the United States.

The Henderson early today had completed her long voyage down the inside passage from Sitka, Alaska, and was proceeding into waters adjacent to Vancouver Harbor.

Although the president and Mrs. Harding were not to step upon Canadian soil until eleven this morning, several members of the party on the Henderson spent a few hours in the province of British Columbia yesterday while the Henderson lay at anchor in Duncan Bay for nearly twelve hours on account of having gotten ahead of her schedule. Those who went ashore visited the little town of Campbell River. Directions were issued by the president yesterday for participation by the Henderson's company of marines and by the U. S. navy band in today's exercises at Vancouver by way of returning a complimentary salute in Portland, Oregon. Independence day, when the officers and men of the British light cruiser Curlew took part in a parade.

No New Developments

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—The conference between Sheriff Rudy Leubach of Butler County and state prohibition director McDonald yesterday did not develop anything new in the prohibition enforcement situation at Hamilton, Mr. McDonald announced.

The sheriff merely paid him a call while he was in Columbus on other business, Mr. McDonald said, and they did not discuss the Butler County situation in great detail. Mr. McDonald said that he had no criticism to offer on the sheriff and believed that he was hampered in enforcing the laws by the refusal of the county commissioners to grant him additional funds with which to hire extra deputies.

Donahey May Summon Legislature To Aid War On Slot Machines

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—If present laws are found to be inadequate to ban slot machines paying mints and chewing gum and some other trade checks, Governor Donahey proposes to call a special session of the legislature and ask that laws be enacted to "stop this form of gambling."

The decision of the Cleveland Municipal Court today holding legal the operation of slot machines paying a change of mints does not satisfy

"Century Old Friendship Between U. S. And Canada Proof To Europe That Public Will Rather Than Force Is Key To Peace"—Harding

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—President Harding in an address during his visit here today—the first visit by an American President to Canada—pointed to the century old friendship between the people of Canada and the people of the United States as proof to the nations of Europe that public will, rather than public force is the key to international peace.

"It is public will, not public force that makes for enduring peace," he told his audience of Canadians gathered in Stanley Park.

"And it is not a gratifying circumstance that it has fallen to the lot of us North Americans living under flag for more than a century under different flags to present the most striking example yet produced of that basic fact. European countries would heed the lessons conveyed by Canada and the United States they would strike at the root of disagreements, and in their own prosperity, forget to interfere constantly at ours."

With his emphasis on the long friendship between Canada and the United States, Mr. Harding coupled advice to the people of the Dominion to guard against giving encouragement to any enterprise looking to Canada's annexation by the United States. "Let us go our own paths along parallel roads, you helping us and we helping you," he added.

First Visit of American President
Mr. Harding at the outset alluded to his visit being the first ever made by a president to the United States to Canada during a term of office and with the exception of the visits of President Wilson to Europe, the first by any politically foreign soil, and then continued.

Sharpen Knife For Donahey's Political Scalp At Pow Wow

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By the A. P.)—Reports received at the state house that interests antagonistic to Governor Donahey met at Springfield recently and indicated, although not public, Joseph McGhee, former attorney general, for the Democratic nomination for governor today revived interest in possible candidates for governor next year. Although no formal announcements have been made of any candidates to date, his friends say that Governor Donahey is sure to be a candidate for reelection, despite the fact that he may have opposed within his own party for the nomination.

An even longer list of possible candidates for the Republican nomination is being discussed by politicians. This list includes former Gov. Harry L. Davis, of Cleveland, and C. A. Thompson of Cleveland, who was defeated by Donahey last year; former congressman Roscoe C. McCullough, of Canton, now with the Department of Justice at Washington; Congressman Theodore E. Burton, of Cleveland, former U. S. Senator from Ohio, and Congressman James C. Ross of Sandusky.

Most of those having gubernatorial hopes are buzzing about them are not expected to make formal announcement

Outlet For Hazard Fields

CINCINNATI, July 26.—An eastern outlet for the Hazard Coal fields district of Kentucky was predicted when reports became current here yesterday that the Louisville and Nashville railroad is to build a connecting link from its eastern terminus at McHenry, Kentucky, to Elkhorn City, 35 miles away. This would connect with the northern terminus of the Carolina, Cincinnati and Ohio railroad, recently acquired under lease by the Atlantic Coast Line, controlling the L. & N. road.

According to Brent Arnold, superintendent and L. F. Bush, division passenger agent of the road, it is the intention of the railroad to construct the track necessary to connect the two lines. While neither of the fields would state the effect the connection was to be made at once, both said that reports from headquarters of the road at Louisville were to the effect that such was the intention when the lease on the Carolina, Cincinnati and Ohio was secured.

Opening of the new line would furnish another direct route from Cincinnati and Louisville to the Atlantic coast, in addition to establishing connection between the Hazard coal field and the south and east.

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—Governor Donahey today asked Attorney General Crabbe for an official ruling as to whether Utilities Commissioner Geo. T. Poor, of Cincinnati, may be removed from office on charges of inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office as a result of Commissioner Poor's alleged ownership of stock in the Cities Service Company.

The action by the governor came as a result of Poor intervening in the bankruptcy proceedings of Benzell and Chaffield, Cincinnati brokers, in which Poor claimed ownership of 100 shares of City Service common stock, in which should carry pretax stock and 1925 City Service stock scrip, held as collateral by the broker-ages concern on loans to Poor, but turned over by the bankrupts to a New York brokerage house to liquidate its own debts to the New York house.

Donahey has resumed his fight to oust from office Poor, Cincinnati Republican chairman of public utilities commission. Donahey early in the year asked for Poor's resignation together with that of Frank Mauler, Chillicothe republican, also a member of the commission. Both refused to resign.

Commissioner Poor would not comment on the governor's action other than to say that he did not consider his ownership of stock in the Cities Service Company a violation of the Public Utility law inasmuch as that company is not under supervision of the commission.

Wives Held Responsible For Husbands Running Stills

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 26.—If you live in Muskegon county and operate a still in the house, your wife is equally guilty with you in violating the liquor law, Judge Vanderlip decided in circuit court yesterday. Judge Vanderlip announced that in future cases of home liquor making wives must suffer the same penalties as their husbands. "No married man can break the law in his own home unless his wife consents," he said.

Near Riot As Sleuths Arrest Guests "Dry Raiders" Swoop Down On Columbus Hotels

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—Additional arrests for violation of liquor laws were reported today following raids on two Columbus hotels yesterday, which last night resulted in what police called a "near riot" when two prohibition agents arrested W. A. Carry, of Pittsburgh at the Deshler Hotel, for illegal possession.

As the officers were leaving the hotel with Carry, a crowd gathered and cries of "lynch them" were directed at the dry officers. The officers hurried their prisoner into an automobile and to a squad car where he was fined $200.

Six other arrests resulted from the officers' search of rooms in the Deshler. More than two cases of whiskey and a case of gin were confiscated. Warrants are held for a number of guests in whose room liquor was found.

One arrest resulted from the finding of liquor in a room at the Clifton Hotel. The raids were in an effort to capture a trio of bootleggers who, according to State prohibition officers, have been operating in downtown hotels here. Five State prohibition officers raided the two hotels—the Deshler and the Clifton—went through every room in the Deshler and came away with a quantity of liquors. The confiscated "wet" goods were found in 11 rooms of the hotel.

The trio of alleged bootleggers, according to officers, were not found. The raid, staged just at the time when the hotels were full of guests attending the Grand Circuit races here, attracted a great crowd of people who thronged the Deshler lobby and watched officers as they descended the elevator with the confiscated liquor.

It was understood that a quantity of liquor was found in the check room of the Deshler, but officers refused to confirm it as they pointed out that any ownership of such liquor would be difficult to prove.

One man, who gave the name of Frank Smith, address unknown, was fined $100 and costs, and another, who gave the name of A. J. Patterson, address unknown, entered a plea of not guilty, as a result of the raid.

ST. PAUL, July 26.—(By the A. P.)—"Revolution—political, industrial, or even a resort to arms—faces the United States," if conditions confronting laboring man and the farmer are not changed," in the opinion of Magnus Johnson, recently elected senator from Minnesota on the Farmer Labor ticket. Many think the same thing that happened in Russia cannot happen in this country," the senator-elect said today in a statement to the Associated Press, but don't fool yourself. It could happen before you know what was going on. The Czar had a big army but he couldn't stop a revolution. We haven't hardly any army at all so what could our government do if there was a nationwide revolution? It couldn't do a thing.

Many things need changing, the senator said, when asked if he had a definite plan for altering conditions, but right now he has nothing worked out. "It will all have to be worked out by congress," he said. "The farmer is in dire need," he continued and "emergency legislation" is needed to remedy the situation. But clamor for a special session of congress "that isn't use," he said. "For President Harding in a letter recently said he would not call a special session of congress under any circumstances."

"The farmer should have cost of production, plus a reasonable profit, definitely guaranteed by the government," Mr. Johnson said, "because the farmers' products have lost their buying power and when the farmer can't buy the country will soon feel it."

"To accomplish the desired result it will be necessary for congress to proceed carefully, but right now temporary or emergency legislation is needed to take care of the situation for this year," he added. Explaining "some of the things that can lead to revolution," the senator-elect

PARIS, JULY 25.—Outwardly Premier Poincare looks like the "strong man of France," but actually he lives in constant fear of the various groups that support him. His inflexibility with reference to the reparations question during the last several months has been the result of intimations, not determination. And his downfall will come in a few months when the people of France realize their national interest might have been just as well preserved and more might have been gained at the same time by a proper understanding with other allied powers.

French Realize Ruhr Invasion A Failure

It is true that the British, American and Italian viewpoints on what ought to be done about reparations have not coincided with what the man in the street in France wants to see done, but nevertheless there has been and will be room for co-operation such as former Premier Briand tried, and finally Poincare will be driven to the same thing, so the peo-

May Relieve Shortage Of Food In The Ruhr

PARIS, July 26.—(By United Press)—The traffic blockade imposed on the Ruhr by the French and Belgian troops was lifted at midnight. Allied authorities announced here today. A serious food shortage in the occupied areas resulted from imposition of the blockade and hoarding of food stuff were piled high at the limitations of the forbidden zone. These could not enter unless the occupiers tax was paid and this the Germans had refused to do.

DUESSELDORF, July 26.—(By Associated Press)—The frontier separating the Ruhr Valley from the rest of Germany was opened at midnight. Thousands of Germans were passing in and out of the occupied region today, making haste to transact urgent business. They were anxious to accomplish all possible during the present opportunity because of reports that the frontier would be closed again in a few days.

German Crown Prince's Visits Cause Alarm

AMSTERDAM, July 26.—(By the United Press)—The German crown prince has made frequent mysterious visits to the former kaiser at Dorn, it was revealed today. The kaiser likewise recently has been receiving more than his usual number of visitors from Germany. These strange activities around the home of the exiled German ruler have caused a feeling of alarm here where it is feared they may be in some way connected with monarchist uprising in the fatherland.

His latest call followed the mysterious visit of the yacht Hohenzollern at Wieringen. After the call was concluded the yacht hoisted the imperial flag and sailed for Germany. The authorities here are at a loss to explain the significance of the occurrences. In Bavaria the last few weeks there have been numerous monarchist outbreaks and the movement has reached such proportions that the newspapers are flooded with comment.

CRABBE ORDERS PROSECUTIONS IN DOLLINGS FAILURE

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—Prosecuting Attorneys of all Ohio counties will be requested to investigate activities of the R. L. Dollings Company, an investment brokerage concern recently placed in the hands of receivers, by their respective communities by Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, with a view to possible criminal prosecution of those responsible for "the gigantic frauds which have been perpetrated on so many people of this state."

First intimation that Mr. Crabbe would seek to prosecute officials of the company came last night when a letter to John R. King, prosecuting attorney of Franklin County, urging that he conduct an investigation was made public. Mr. Crabbe in his letter said that "I shall insist that those responsible for robbing the people of Ohio out of nearly $30,000,000 be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law." Mr. Crabbe added that "the majority of the stockholders will receive little or nothing from these defunct concerns."

Agree On Note Reply

PARIS, July 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The French and Belgian governments have reached an entire agreement on all the essential points respecting the British note, it was announced today. It was made known whether there will be a joint or separate reply.

The French reply will not be ready until the beginning of next week but Premier Poincare is understood to have in mind the fact that the British parliament is to adjourn August 3 and he is expected to submit his government's answer before that date. While the parliament has nothing to do directly with this stage of the negotiations, it is thought here that Prime Minister Baldwin might like to say something to the house of commons on the subject before the summer recess.

The negotiations prior to the submission of the proposed collective note to the German government in response to its reparations memorandum, will hardly be completed with the submission of the French and Belgian replies to the British proposal, according to the view taken here, because it is considered that some points will require further discussion with the British foreign office. Therefore there is a strong desire that every detail of the negotiations remain secret so that the German government may have no opportunity to embarrass the Franco-Belgian-British discussion. Much of the negotiations between Brussels and Paris have been conducted by telephone and the dinner hour has so far proved to be the time when most of the talking had to be done.

Wolfe Shows Drawing Big Crowds

The greatest problem that confronts the spectator at the Wolfe Greater Shows is which show to take in first. Once the break is made, the rest is easy.

But the various novelties and side shows, each recommended to the visiting public as an act of special merit and of genuine pleasure, each lighted and billed attractively, crowd into the mind of the guest with such a diversity of appeals that one can scarcely decide what to do first.

All of Millbrook park is one mass of brilliantly lighted displays and huge tents and exciting rides of different sorts. One would not think the park could hold so large a show. But it does, without any uncomfortable crowding. There is no space not utilized, however. Every available spot has a show or a novelty tent of some kind.

Variety of entertainment provides amusement for every kind of person to suit the individual tastes. There are freaks, dancers, singers, Hawaiian musicians, minstrel shows, mind readers, sleight-of-hand performers, fortune-tellers, trained animals. There are the merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel, the caterpillar, the sea planes, the whip and other rides. The candy stands and hot dog and lemonade counters provide for the "inner man."

Local Firm Gets Patent On New Last

(Special From Washington Bureau)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—Patent rights on a shoe last which is claimed to be a considerable improvement over those now in use, were granted to the Vulcan Last company of Portsmouth by the United States Patent Office.

It was recorded on the announcement of the patent issue that manufacturing rights on the device have already been assigned to the Vulcan Last company of Portsmouth.

Application for the patent was made more than a year ago, but approval was delayed by congestion at the patent office.

W. J. Quetzel of the Vulcan Last company stated Thursday that the last had been in use for some time and it giving splendid satisfaction.

"It is a mechanical last, which when in a shoe retains its rigidity, but has resilient features that makes it the ideal last for our business."

Wanzer Rickey Visits Mt. Clemens Cafes

As "Colonel"; Spectacular Raids Follow

That Frank W. Rickey, Federal Prohibition Agent, has not let down his work of nabbing violators of the Volstead act is evidenced in a story today sent out from Detroit, concerning his activities at Mt. Clemens, Mich., where raids directed by him resulted in the arrests of no less than 14 cafe proprietors. The following concerning the work of officer Rickey is from the Cincinnati Enquirer.

DETROIT, Mich., July 26.—"Best room and bath attendant you have, sub."

Thus, 10 days ago, a "Southern gentleman," registering as "Colonel Russell, of Louisville, Ky.," and ostensibly suffering great agony from the sharp twinges and aches of rheumatism, addressed himself to the clerk at one of Mount Clemens' leading hotels. As he limped about town, the "Colonel" affable and suave became a popular figure in the night life of Mount Clemens.

Cafe owners came to regard the drawing gentleman as a good fellow. Anything he wanted was his—and usually nothing less than a quart of whiskey would allay his "rheumatism."

Tuesday night and early today these same cafe proprietors, of whom 14 were locked up in the Wayne County Jail after a spectacular series of raids on their places, were obviously shocked to learn that "Colonel Russell" was none other than Frank W. Rickey, teammate of the famous Izzy Einstein, New York's champion rum sleuth.

While men and women were dancing and drinking freely in the cafes, several raiding squads of general agents from Ohio and Illinois, and Deputy Marshals from the Detroit office walked in unannounced by outposts and made the arrests.

Rickey, in Detroit today told how one of his assistants, who had attracted suspicious glances from cafe operators because he was a stranger, had succeeded in being satisfactory identified by a Mount Clemens policeman, who "ouched for him to a cafe owner as "all right."

SOCIETY

Little Miss Virginia Katherine Kelsier, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Kelsier of 1210 Fourth street, entertained with a delightful birthday party Wednesday afternoon in honor of her tenth birthday anniversary. 42, Great Grandma!

MRS. J. W. HOLLANDER, GREAT-GRANDMOTHER AT 42: TO THE LEFT FROM TOP TO BOTTOM: MRS. OSCAR DOWDY, DAUGHTER; MRS. RICHARD LEWIS, GRANDDAUGHTER, AND VIRGINIA, GREAT-GRANDDAUGHTER.

BALTIMORE.—Who is the youngest great-grandmother in the country? Mrs. J. W. Hollander, of Baltimore, claims the title. She became a great-grandmother at 42!

She was married when she was 13. Fourteen years later her daughter Bernice, just 13, married and became Mrs. Oscar Dowdy.

Another lapse of 14 years and Mrs. Dowdy's daughter, Nellie, 13 years old, married Richard Lewis.

A year later came Virginia Lewis—Mrs. Lewis' daughter, Mrs. Dowdy's granddaughter, and Mrs. Hollander's great-granddaughter.

Virginia is three years old now. And the grand-mother, now 45, hopes to become a great-grandmother.

"And if I live to a real ripe old age, of 80, or thereabouts," she says, hopefully, "perhaps I'll become a great-great-grandmother, too."

No Blankets For Texans

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 26.—No body in Texas slept under blankets last night.

"The night seemed as hot as the day before and today seems about to repeat such soaring temperatures of yesterday as 130 degrees in the sweltering east central Texas oil fields."

110 at Wichita Falls, 108 at Temple and Marshall, 107 at Paris and Omaha, 108 at Gainesville, 105 at Texarkana, 104 at Fort Worth and Waco, and 103 at Austin and Dallas. Most of these figures were records for the year.

May Take Slot Machines Cases To Supreme Court

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—(By Associated Press)—A supreme court decision to determine the legality of mint vending slot machines operating in the city may be sought by Law Director Lamb, despite the ruling of Municipal Judge Greene, yesterday who held the devices are within the law.

Lamb indicated that he will act on the low of the case, and not on the implied accusation of Governor Donahy that City officials are not interested.

Following the local decision Governor Donahy said he hoped the Law Director would carry the cases to the supreme court, and if he does not he may seek a test case in "some locality where prosecuting officials are interested."

While Lamb was "studying law" police officers were under orders from Chief Graul to arrest players and operators who are gambling or permitting gambling. "Gambling" in Graul's opinion takes place when the slugs or checks are played back.

Governor Donahy said, too, that if the present laws do not govern the devices he will call a special session of the legislature to enact measures covering the machines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Brown (Anna Hughes) who spent part of the honeymoon in this city with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Hughes of 315 Offshore street, and later toured the East, have returned to Tulsa, Oklahoma, where they will make their future home.

Miss Dorothy Hughes of 315 Offshore street is spending two weeks visiting with relatives and friends in Newport, Ky., and Cincinnati.

A congenial group who are spending this week at Mineral Springs, Adams county, include Mrs. Dan Corry and daughter, Kathleen, Mrs. John G. Dillon and daughter, Miss Helen Dillon, Miss Elizabeth Duguid and Miss Maude Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rice and young daughter, Joan will leave Sunday on a motor trip that will carry them, first to Chicago, where Mrs. Rice will attend the Fall Gaze Millinery openings, and buy for her store. From there they will go to Atlantic City and other Eastern points before returning home.

Court House

Lila Convierted; Fined
Tom Lila, proprietor of a pool room at Nauvoo, was found to be guilty of contributing to the delinquency of Ralph Goodman, 15, at a hearing in Probate court Thursday and Judge Gilliland imposed a fine of $10 and costs on him after the evidence showed that the defendant had allowed the boy to visit his establishment and play pool there.

Failed To Pay; Jailed
J. W. Mitchell, a preacher of the New Boston neighborhood, who was arrested and convicted several months ago, and later released on parole on his promise to pay the $500 fine assessed against him for violation of the dry laws, was re-arrested by county officers and locked up at the jail yesterday afternoon on an execution issued from the court of Squire J. L. Rickey. The person will be detained until he pays up.

Jones Seeks Divorce
William L. Jones charges neglect and infidelity in his suit for divorce from Onella Jones in an action instituted Thursday in Common Pleas court.

He avers they were married in August, 1922, and through Attorneys Miller and Searl accuses the defendant of neglecting him for the association of one Roy Malone, declaring that she has constantly been keeping company with Malone and avers that their conduct has become a subject of neighborhood gossip.

Visiting Old Home
Deputy Sheriff Robert Rono and wife motored to Hillsboro Thursday for a short visit with his parents. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rono.

Rarden Visitor Sees Old Friend
A. C. Christian, prominent Rarden business man, was in the city Thursday and during the day was about the Court House greeting old friends.

Administrator Appointed
Daniel A. Bernad has been appointed by the Probate court to administer the estate of the late Mary A. Biomeyer, who died June 27 last, leaving property with an estimated value of $12,000 represented by $1000 personally and $12,000 realty.

Officials On Inspection Trip
County Commissioners J. H. Appel, W. C. Shively and John Bennett and Engineer A. B. Harwood visited the eastern part of the county Thursday to inspect bridge and road improvements now in progress in that district. The officials will make a swing through the western part of the county Friday to view the same of proposed road and bridge improvements in the vicinity of Otway and Rarden.

AGAINST STOCK FUNDS

MORE strength to the arm of the department of justice in its new drive against oil stock swindlers, fake promoters and other artists in fraud! The activities of those marauders have cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars annually. The crooks profit by the desire of possessors of a little for a "little more," and they have exploited this desire to their own enrichment by gathering in the shakels of the unwary and the evergullible with sales of worthless oil stock, with promises of fabulous wealth offered by fake promotion schemes, and with other hook-and-crook methods of separating owners from their purses.

The public will always yield something to the bogus oil stock salesman and the fake promoter as long as ignorance responds to the craving for quick and easy money. Protection against such exploitation is the duty of the government enforcement of laws against such frauds with a severity that would impress the swindlers with the prohibitive costliness of their crimes is promised by the increasing activity of the department of justice.

WASHINGTON'S LITTLE JOKE

A "tightwad" is defined by a United States government bureau as a man who saves 60 cents of every dollar, 37 cents of the balance for living expenses, and one cent each for education, recreation and gifts. The spendthrift is described as the man who saves nothing, and the thrifty man is designated as one who saves 20 cents out of every dollar.

There is no doubt that the man who saves 20 cents out of every dollar is a thrifty man. Perhaps the man who saves 60 cents is a tightwad. But inasmuch as the title of the pamphlet is "How Other People Get Ahead" the suggestion is irrefragable that that is how other people get ahead.

If it be tolerable to make further light observation upon a subject so solemn in these days of high prices and normalcy, perhaps the government's experts will parade a few of these men who save 60 cents out of every dollar. The suspicion has been that if the coal dealer didn't get 'em the income tax collector did.

UNSOUD CRITICISM

A commentator hits an inviting mark when he says that much of the literary criticism now going the rounds is unworthy of acceptance as the last word of judgment on works with which it deals. Sound, healthy criticism is now, as it always has been, worthy of serious consideration by readers. But criticism, like literature and art, is prone to run after strange ideas and to overemphasize the value of novelties and to develop neurotic and decadent tendencies.

It is a fair count against many modern critics that they overrate ugliness as realism and set too high value on the morbid and the distorted, to which certain writers run. When a long-haired critic reviews the works of a long-haired author, the result is not apt to be long in value. In this time of fadism critics owe it to their public to keep level heads and, as far as they are able, to hold against the ugly tendencies that are showing in too many so-called literary products.

A SOVIET BIBLE PLAN

THE official soviet press declares that the Moscow regime may eventually be disposed to "buy" trade relations with America by part payment of debts incurred by Russia. At the same time the validity of these debts is vigorously denied. From this it would appear that the soviet fails to grasp the American view.

It is not merely on the payment of debts that the Washington government lays stress. Its recognition is conditioned on proof of good faith, of which payment of debts would be evidence. The soviet plan outlined by the Moscow press plainly negatives good faith and places debt payment on the basis of a bribe. Thus, even in proposing to pay part of Russia's debt, the reds show their inherent crookedness.

Ireland was geographically misplaced. It ought to have been in the Balkans.

Turks feel the need of money. It is proposed to permit a man to have only one wife.

The impression may yet become prevalent that a great many New York models are not.

There will be use for horses so long as automobiles have to be pulled out of the mud.

Egyptian costumes may look like hieroglyphics but the price is expressed in plain figures.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 26—The Tenderloin underworld has its tony set just as the higher stratum of society. The nobler gambler looks with disdain upon the stucco player. The pet man, or safe blower, will not mingle with the porch climber.

The "darbs" of the underworld pack classy titles. Duke Trull is a fashion plate. King Howarth and Prince Level might be taken for visiting Earls. They are not men with villainous scowls, but sly, voluted types that could well grace a smart club lounge.

To such pseudo-aristocrats the lowly leather lifer is a "rat"—the basest epithet of the Tenderloin. Only in closest confidences with gentlemen of their ilk do they resort to crook slang. Their "dolls" are as magnificently gowned as the Fifth Avenue mainlin on display.

The other week a group of Central Office men descended upon a Neapolitan genius of the underworld. They found him in a private house in the East Sixties. He was arrayed in purple pajamas of silk. Two obsequious Jap servants were ministering to his wants.

He drove to headquarters with them in his limousine and, as usual, had his apt and ready alibi and withdrew with his accustomed smile. There is a famous stage beauty when mightily consort at the cafe is a silver-haired dilettante. His dress is impeccable. He has done three "stretches" up the river.

The high class lawbreaker tries to keep his reputation unsullied in his way. He is not offended at being pointed out as one who lifted a pigeon blood ruby from a Duchess, but to be suspected of "bricking" a Broadway jeweler's window grieves him deeply.

Those in the lower order of crookdom refer to their patrician brethren as "fluff flyers." There is a story of Murphy the Goat once intruding his presence at a table where sat Victor Adair, a Paris plutocrat of crookdom. Adair landed "flush on the button"—a straight swing to the jaw—and The Goat fell unconscious. He knew he had violated the unwritten law of the underworld in mingling with his superior in public.

The Spanish shawl with gay embroidery and long fringe is a sturdy note in Milady's evening dress. Huge combs adorn the coiffure. The effort is to look pale and interesting, but with all rather suffocated with ennui. Conversation is growing more and more companionable—there's an out-of-town woman—and a very long cigarette holder must be held in a don't-careish manner.

About ten years ago their romance was the talk of Flash Alley. He roped her with pearls, sent her on

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Legend of the Moonflower
When gardens fair cabale perfumes
Of starry myth on daisies,
The moonflower by the porch unfolds
Its blossoms in the dusk.
With glimmering disks of pallid pearl
The dark green vine is starred,
As if a host of little moons
Had risen in the yard.

For when at her appointed time
The moon shined her light
The cricket cried, "I cannot see
To pipe my tune tonight!"
The beetle blundered to and fro,
The shadows were so black,
The moth went out and lost her way
And nevermore came back.

So nature, who's fairly queen
In robes of sun and snow
And dewdrop crown (as all of us
Discovered long ago),
Touched with her hazel wand a vine—
A barren vine, and soon,
From every spray and tendrill shone,
A copy of the moon.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
BEHIND THE MASK
By Berton Braley
YOU can't always tell by their faces
How people are feeling within.
For pain doesn't always leave traces.
Nor joy always show a grin.
You find that each life has its loaves
Of things that go ill or go well;
We each have our own little heaven,
We each have our own little hell.

Every man told you his story,
His innermost secrets and hopes,
His moments of uttermost glory,
The depths in which blindly he gropes;
You'd find, were he seventy-seven
Or still in youth's glamorous spell,
He lives in his own little heaven,
He writhes in his own little hell.

It may be that sometime hereafter
We'll come to a final reward,
A paradise thrilling with laughter,
A hades of tortures and abhorred;
But anyhow, life has its leaven
Of sorrows and blisses as well;
We each have our own little heaven,
We each have our own little hell.

37 Percent Of Negroes Leaving Homes In South Come To Ohio, Figures Show

Washington Bureau, Portsmouth Times.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—A great percentage of the negro migration from South to North in the last five years has been directed toward Ohio more than to any other state above the Mason and Dixon line. Investigators for the Department of Labor made this statement today after a careful check of the shift of negro population to the North, showing that by their figures one of every three negroes coming from the South since 1918 has settled in the Buckeye State.

Their inquiry into negro movements was undertaken in consequence of agitation which has begun in industrial circles in both sections of the country—in the South because of loss of labor and in the North because of the unusual influx of cheap workers. Political consequences are also being regarded, though they are as yet of minor importance. Nominally, the drift of negroes from the restraint of the South to the greater independence they enjoy in Ohio and other states should mean an advantage for the Republican party. Few colored men vote in the South, but all are expected to exercise this privilege once they come North, and the chief benefit will probably accrue to the G. O. P.

The migration northward began during the war and has been constant since that time. Though the Department of Labor was unable to make a census of the number of colored folks who have actually moved "up North," its officials feel that accurate percentage figures have been obtained. They are based on facts gathered among 10,747 negroes employed in northern industry, of whom 4,702 have left the South within the last year. Estimates made by the investigators show the following distribution of negroes coming north as to states: Ohio, 37.26 per cent; Pennsylvania, 21.23 per cent; Michigan, 10.53 per cent; New Jersey, 6.4 per cent; New York, 4.75 per cent; Illinois, 4.49 per cent; Maryland, 1.30 per cent; Wisconsin, 0.85 per cent. The large influx into Ohio is attributed to the fact that it is a "gateway" for migration from the states of heaviest colored population and at the same time affords plentiful employment to unskilled laborers in many lines, with wages much lucrative than those which the new arrivals received in the South.

Livestock Show Will Be One Of Many Features At Lucasville Fair, Aug. 8-11

The one thing that the local stockman and farmer give their undivided attention and support is the annual livestock show at the Scioto County Fair, Lucasville, August 8-11.

There is every indication that it will excel in interest and attendance any previous show. It is the place where the stockmen and farmers get together every year, compare notes and become acquainted with conditions that will affect their business during the ensuing year.

From a business standpoint, the farmer will have an opportunity to purchase new blood, secure pedigreed animals from the best local herds in the county at private and public sales. This applies to cattle, sheep, hogs and horses.

No stockman or farmer can afford to miss this annual gathering. As a business proposition, he should be there whether as an exhibitor or not. At the Fair he can gather information that will enable him to handle his business more intelligently during the coming year, and in addition it will put him in touch with market conditions and provide him with a class of entertainment that is both amusing and educational.

The management is making preparations to entertain the largest crowd ever taken care of in the history of the Fair. All wants are anticipated by the committee and no matter how many may come there will be no difficulty in housing and feeding every one comfortably.

The large influx into Ohio is attributed to the fact that it is a "gateway" for migration from the states of heaviest colored population and at the same time affords plentiful employment to unskilled laborers in many lines, with wages much lucrative than those which the new arrivals received in the South.

Plans are completed for a real picnic and frolicsome festival and the event will be something to remember next winter by the fireside. Games and stunts are planned galore. One event which is sure to be a feature of the day will be a lobster race, not by real lobsters but by some of the boys of the school. Mr. Bruce Tudor is offering as a prize for one of the events a real honest to goodness chicken, which is now fattening up for the occasion. The contest for the above prize is something new under the sun and is a real thriller.

There will be free novelties for the children and judging by the interest shown by them in the picnic it will take a carload, more or less, to go around. The committee is sparing no expense however in making the festival one long to be remembered and from all indications the school and their friends will be on the scene of action early next Thursday to enjoy the entire time together.

Underwood Says Wheat Market Failure Will Affect Every Section Of Country

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 26.—The law of supply and demand cannot be overtaken by the puny efforts of man.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood, delivering his first public address since his return from Europe, today sounded a note of warning against the "black clouds of the West," caused by the failure of the wheat market. He addressed the Birmingham Rotary Club.

"We may feel in the South that the failure of the wheat market affects only the North and Northwest," Senator Underwood said, "but that is not the case. When our own cotton crop failed in 1914 because we couldn't get ships to carry our bales to Europe the effect of it was felt over the entire nation. It will be the same way with the wheat failure and what we need is for the business men of the country to do their part. It may not be felt directly down here, but everyone will feel it indirectly."

"We can never tell where the cloud will go to. Who among you can tell if the same cloud now hanging over the West will not be hanging over the South next year? There is no golden rule governing this condition. The only way to guard against an economic crisis is to operate along the proper ruled to commercial and financial world and nothing can change this economic principle. We must have a market for what we produce or else we will fail financially. And America has to depend upon Europe in a large way for a market. As no market can be secured in a country where there is no stabilized form of Government, we find that a large part of Europe will be exempt from prospective markets and this reverts back to us the products which we had hoped to sell in Europe.

Europe Needs America

Senator Underwood did not mention any political issues, but he made it clear that the assistance of America was badly needed in Europe to straighten out affairs and that unless European Governments became stabilized, the American citizens would be great sufferers.

"The energy of man is the only way to produce, and as half of Europe is not working, it can be seen that half of it is not producing anything. Stability does not exist in Governments over there and no credit can be given in countries where no stability exists."

Senator Underwood closed with an appeal for the business men to do their share in the crisis.

"On the battle fields of France the boys of America did their part. I only hope and pray that this crisis for the world the business men and citizenship of America will not think."

This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.

Drowns In Lake Erie

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 26.—In view of their nine-year-old twins, Eula and Earl, and about a hundred other bathers, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reed, of Columbus, were caught in a heavy undertow and drowned in Lake Erie a quarter of a mile west of Rocky River park late yesterday while in swimming with a party of friends.

The lake is shallow at that spot and the husband and wife, both expert swimmers, were about 200 yards from shore when trouble came.

As Mrs. Reed, powerless in the grip of the current, called frantically for help, Eula jumped into the surf, but was prevented by bystanders from attempting to swim to her mother's assistance. Reed was several yards from his wife, who was struggling to get back into shallow water.

He fought desperately to get to her side, but his efforts were without effect before the force of the current and he was carried farther and farther away.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were unconscious when help reached them. They were brought to shore where resuscitation measures applied by firemen and bathers were unavailing.

Helsel, Mrs. Louis D. Corson, Mrs. Louis Schoettle, Mrs. Oscar Anderson, Mrs. Louis E. Weiss of Chicago and Miss Ruth Korns of Johnstown, Pa.

The Misses Redelia and Hannah Donahoe of Third street and the Misses Mayne and Margaret McQuide of Fourth street will motor to Columbus tomorrow to attend the funeral on Saturday morning of Mr. Edward A. Hagerty, who died at his home in that city Wednesday morning. The funeral will be held from St. Francis church.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of Spangside have returned from Cincinnati, where they went to see Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Thomas A. Jones, who underwent a very serious surgical operation at the Deaconess Hospital in that city last Monday. Mrs. Jones' condition is very critical and little hope is held out for her recovery. Her sister, Miss Mary Collins, of Offshore street, is at her bedside.

Mrs. J. W. Flinders of Greenup, Ky., was a business visitor in the city today.

Miss Josephine Starr of Chicago is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Lauman of Bear Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kugelman and two children, Dan and Bill, have returned to their home in Troy, Ohio, after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kugelman of Highland avenue.

Use olive oil and have hair with lovely gloss

Hair cannot have light and color if it is left dry and brittle. Hair specialists all agree that it must be shampooed with olive oil, which cleans but never leaves hair dry and dull.

Now thousands and thousands of women enjoy the finest of olive oil shampoos, economically at home. They use PALMOLIVE SHAMPOO—olive oil in its most convenient form. Washes away all dirt and grime; removes dandruff. And it leaves hair with rich life and gloss. Get a bottle today at any department or drug store. Just one shampoo will amaze you! Try it, and see.

French

French statesmen, who are not interested in supporting the Poincaré mission in economic coercion, but who are as reluctant in expressions of nationalism as anybody in Europe, say that the vital question of the hour is the will to pay. The Ruhr is worth many times its cost, they insist, if it makes Germany realize her defeat and the obligation to pay her debts. That is why the United States Secretary of State Hughes suggestion of a committee to investigate the facts about Germany's capacity to pay does not interest France. Even if the facts were established, would Germany pay? If she thought she could escape the obligations? The French have seen the Germans wriggle too much in the last three years to trust anyone on the other side of the Rhine. France will believe Germany when the private bankers of the world and foreign governments have underwritten and guaranteed Germany's promises.

Of course, to continued policy of isolation will get France nowhere. The French see this more plainly than they did six months ago. They miss the comradeship of Great Britain and Italy more than they miss the Ruhr. And if the truth were known, Belgium is by no means ready to follow France as blindly as she appeared to be at the outset of the Ruhr excursion. The fact that impressed the writer most about his trip through France was that the latter misses Great Britain and needs her. One hears denunciations about the British selfishness, even British treachery, in failing to participate in the Ruhr invasion, but when all is said and done, the French know that passive resistance would end tomorrow and Germany would sit up and take notice if the French and British could agree.

Just now the British are making another effort to join hands with the French. Poincaré gives every evidence of alertness combined with the fear that he may not be able to agree to the British proposals for joint action in the reparations controversy. But whatever he fails to do now, he or some other premier will be compelled to do before the snow flies again. Europe cannot disengage itself from the economic disturbances of today already are breeding seeds of tomorrow's war. Germany has coal, France has iron. The two must be brought together. America could never have become economically prosperous but for the fact that Pennsylvania's coal and Michigan's ore were brought together in other states of the same Union. The reparations controversy is not a matter of law, sentiment and national pride, but of dollars and cents and industrialism. Economic peace must come to Europe before there can be an assurance against a repetition of the last great war.

concern? They were held out to the people as perfectly solvent and it was not until private citizens resorted to the Courts, receivers appointed and the sale of stock stopped, that the Securities Department revoked the license of these fraudulent concerns. Mr. Crabbe also said that he would ask prosecutors in various counties to investigate "questionable" transactions of stock salesmen of the Dollars concerns. The Attorney-General said he solicited "all information pointing toward the violation of law in connection with these transactions."

Hits Back at Crabbe
Answering Mr. Crabbe's letter, Norman E. Beck, State Securities Commissioner, in a statement asked the Attorney-General "to make public a list of convictions that he has secured of violations of the 'blue-sky' law, all of which evidence was secured by the Securities Department and submitted to the Attorney-General."

Mr. Beck declared that the Attorney-General has given "no assistance to the Securities Department in its endeavor to rid the state of worthless securities."

All of the Dollars issues were certificated prior to the present administration," Mr. Beck said, adding that the Attorney-General "has never co-operated with the Securities Department in securing convictions for violations of the law."

At a meeting of Ohio stockholders yesterday, John A. Bushnell, Columbus, was named chairman of a committee which will take necessary legal action to secure an equitable settlement for shareholders. Stockholders also were requested to acquaint the Attorney-General regarding details of their purchases. Mr. Bushnell announced that "every legal means will be used to protect the interests of the stockholders."

In its endeavor to organize a number of years ago and moved its headquarters to Columbus in 1915 and shortly after that Col. R. L. Hollings of Hamilton, Ohio, withdrew from the organization. During the war period the company successfully undertook re-financing of number of industrial concerns which were in dire need of capital. Approximately $100,000 worth of stock was sold to 5,000 persons it is said. Difficulties came with the business slump following the war, it is said.

Donahey

"Had I believed that I was violating the law, I certainly would not have rushed into public acknowledgment of ownership of the stock by filing the intervening petition in the bankruptcy case," Commissioner Poor said.

Governor Donahey points out in his letter to the attorney general that the public Utilities law prohibits anyone from holding an office as commissioner who is peculiarly interested in any corporations coming under supervision of the state public utilities commission and that the Cities Service Company controls the stock ownership of the Ohio Public Service Company which serves directly seventeen Ohio communities with electric light and power and 12 other communities indirectly by supplying current at wholesale to distributing companies. The Ohio Public Service Company is under supervision of the Utilities Commission. The governor's letter asserts that the last annual report of the Ohio Public Service Commission shows that the 50,000 shares outstanding of the Ohio Public Service Company.

The letter also states that the following other companies also are controlled by the Cities Service Company: the Central Ohio Gas Company, which supplies natural gas directly to a number of communities and sells wholesale to Lima and Kenton and the Toledo, Edison Company which serves the city of Toledo. The letter states that both cities of Lima and Kenton "have waged vigorous rate contest during the past two years before the commission," of which Mr. Poor is chairman.

While Commissioner Poor as shown by his sworn intervening petition in the Beazell and Chaffield bankruptcy, does not claim ownership of stock in any of the companies controlled by the Cities Service Company, Governor Donahey said in his request, for a ruling:

"In my opinion it must impress the average citizen as being morally and technically wrong for a member of the Public Utilities Commission to sit in judgment on the rates and practices of a Utility in which he has a financial interest even in the remotest degree through ownership of stock in a holding company by which the utility."

Flood Of Notes Hits Germany

BERLIN, July 26 (By the Associated Press).—A flood of 10,000 and 20,000 mark notes is inundating Berlin because of the Reichsbank's inability to supply sufficient quantities of high denomination currency, and a small army of bank clerks stormed the institution today in an attempt to haul off enough paper to supply the private banks.

The heavy demand for currency was precipitated by a sudden rise in all prices, due to the mark's further collapse. Merchants and tourists, who besedge the banks from early till late, are forced to depart with wads of small bills for which a suitcase or hamper is the only serviceable container.

The sudden dearth of big bills is due to their having been shipped into the provinces with a view to saving transportation and bundling charges, and pending the appearance of new ones, five and ten million mark notes, Berlin will be obliged to content itself with small bills.

Packed in Baskets
Thousands of bundles of small notes are piled promiscuously into laundry baskets or motor lorries without being checked off. They are subsequently passed out to bank patrons or tourists with the same indifference and, unless the recipient is possessed of surplus time or patience, he tucks the bulk wad under his arm and walks away without counting them.

The surfeit of small bills is incidentally responsible for extravagant tipping, which is becoming general throughout Berlin, as the possessor of several million marks in small denominations is inclined to unload himself of their bulk and it is no unusual sight to see a tourist pass out a ten or twenty thousand mark tip where a tenth of the amount is customary.

Amazing Facts Made Public By Mrs. Abele

"So many people in Akron are talking about Tanlac that I think I ought to tell what it has done for me," said Mrs. B. C. Abele, highly esteemed resident of 927 Douglas St., Akron, Ohio.

"Tanalac actually built me up forty-eight pounds in weight and has kept me in fine health for the past two years. When I started taking it I couldn't eat enough to give me strength to take care of my home, and my back hurt so bad it was simply agony. Mr. troubles had pulled me down in weight, too.

"My mother wrote me to try Tanlac, and after I started taking it my appetite became perfectly enormous, and I just gained health and strength so fast it was amazing. I still take a little Tanlac at different seasons, and it keeps me feeling good. No medicine can compare with Tanlac."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanalac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

Vanceburg Woman Who Dies Had $760 Hidden In Old Bullet Pouch

VANCEBURG, Ky., July 26.—After the funeral of Mrs. McCoy and her burial in the McCoy cemetery, on her own farm Wednesday, the relatives returned to the house and made an extensive search for money which she had told her grandson, Howard Dixon, was secreted somewhere in the house.

A few hours before her death Mrs. McCoy called her grand son to her and informed him that there was a large sum of money secreted about the house but being interrupted by the entrance of a third person she never told him where the money was hidden.

After a fruitless search of several hours they were about to abandon the search, thinking that Mrs. McCoy had a hallucination, when one of the searchers found the money in an old bullet pouch which had been kept in a tin can in the pantry. On counting the money the pouch was found to contain $700 in currency. At the time of Mrs. McCoy's death $1,000 in gold was found secreted behind the head of his bed.

Various Union Bodies To Stage Labor Day Parade

Extensive preparations are under way by the Central Labor Council for the Labor Day parade, Monday, September 3. William Rapp, who is chairman of the Central Labor Council general parade committee, stated last night that it was planned to make the parade this year something bigger and better than ever before and one which will be of interest to everyone in Scioto county.

"We want not only the various crafts in the city represented this year," said Mr. Rapp in discussing the parade last night, "we are planning a parade in which will be represented the farmers of the county, the schools, industries, the business interests of the city, public offices, and the various fraternal organizations, clubs and societies. We have appointed different committees to enlist the aid of these different interests, and if we secure the hearty cooperation of all, we can make the parade this year one of which the city and county can well be proud."

The general committee in charge of arrangements, in addition to Mr. Rapp, includes: John Stebbins and E. S. Finney. Each of the different labor crafts are also represented by three men.

It is planned to have several large bands in the parade. Further arrangements will be made at a meeting of the committees Friday, August 3.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Within a fortnight I am coming to you again. This time making myself a little plainer. Can you give me the address of a medical or physician psychologist at Columbus.

A. M. S.
Would advise you to write to the College of Medicine, Ohio State University, Columbus, for this information, or perhaps one of the local physicians could tell you what you want to know as some doctors practice psychology, along with internal medicine.

Dear Dolly—I have been thinking about having a stand to sell lemonade, iced drinks and ice cream. Dolly would I have to buy a license? I am going to have it in our front yard. Dolly if you cannot help me where can I inquire?
Bill
You won't need a license to open up your private refreshment stand.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me where to write to get information about drawing the pension of the Spanish American Soldiers. Do you think I can draw a pension now?

Times Reader
I imagine you can draw the pension all right. If you are entitled to one. Would advise you to consult Mr. J. J. Davidson, 1417 Fourth Street, or Phone him, and he will give you all the information you want on the subject.

Dear Dolly—I am a young boy 16 years old and would be good looking but for my nose. I am in love with a girl who owns two cows. Now Dolly don't you think we could get all right; and what should a fellow say when he goes to see his girl?

T. W. M.
You might not be good looking with the nose you have, but I am sure you are better looking than you would be without any nose at all. Can't you get along with the cows, or with the girl. When you go to see your girl you might talk about the cows, horses, chickens, pigs, and other interesting things that are to be found on the farm. Of course if you have any other information stored away in your fertile brain might you spring it on her.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me the proper things to keep on a buffet, also what should be hung on the wall above buffet, also what should be kept on serving table, and wall space above same. Want to know how soon will the paving be finished on the road between here and Ironton.

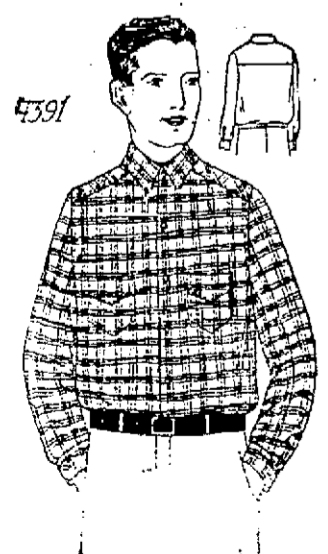

Scotolville Reader.
They are showing very attractive buffet sets, which consist of a fruit or flower bowl and two candle sticks. They may be purchased in polychrome or the new decorated colored glass sets. Some use the electric candle sticks alone and others just a basket or bowl of fruit or flowers. Still others a piece of cut glass or silver. After all it is only a matter of taste and you can decorate your buffet to suit yourself. Personally I don't like to see the loaded down like a moving van. The serving table should not contain any more than necessary. If you will inquire at a furniture store or watch their windows when they have dining room sets on display, you will get an idea how to arrange your furniture. You can also get suggestions out of the current magazines and the newspaper advertisements.

According to the latest word received here the road to Ironton will be completed about the middle of September, that is the weather is favorable until that time.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me, through the Portsmouth Times, where I can write to get information concerning the work and salary and

Sues For $10,600; Gets $100 Verdict

GREENUP, Ky., July 26.—(Special To The Times)—After being out for four hours the jury in the damage suit trial of Lawrence Lett against Dr. Albert S. Brady reported at 12 o'clock today with a verdict of $100 for Lett. Attorney W. T. Cole of this place, representing Dr. Brady said that he would file motion for a new trial at once. Lett brought suit for $10,600 claiming that Dr. Brady had failed to give him broken wrist proper attention. After the verdict in the case was returned, Judge W. C. Thibault adjourned circuit court until the third Monday in October.

The introduction of evidence was completed late yesterday afternoon and each attorney was given 30 minutes to arguments. The jury was then released until 8 o'clock this morning and as soon as court opened this morning the case was placed in their hands. It was reported that nine signed the verdict and that three did not.

Dr. Brady is a brother of Rev. C. W. Brady, pastor of Mainly church, Portsmouth. Rev. Brady was here today to visit his brother. Physicians who were here to testify in behalf of Dr. Brady have been a resident of this place for 33 years and Dr. S. S. Halderman and J. W. Fitch of Portsmouth and H. C. Dorroh of Ashland, J. I. Rathburn of Russell, Ky., W. F. Martling, and O. C. O'Neill of Ironton, and Jay Carter and H. D. Morris of Greenup.

Boy Shoots At Rat; Hits His Thumb

While shooting rats with an air rifle, Ulman Davis, ten year old son of Albert Davis, 1211 Front street, shot his right thumb about 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

An X-ray taken by Virgil Fowler, showed the shot to be lodged in the thumb. Dr. Walter Braunlin removed the pellet.

Daughter Is Slain By Father's Bullet

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 26.—Stepping between her father and husband in the role of peacekeeper, after one shot alleged to have been fired by the father had gone wild, Mrs. Martha Hart fell fatally wounded this afternoon at Pittsburgh, near here, when a second shot was discharged. The father, Mark Swan, was placed under arrest upon a second degree murder charge and today the husband, J. H. Hart, was attempting to raise the required $25,000 bond in order that Swan could accompany his daughter's body today to Carnegie P. A. where funeral services will be held.

Swan and Hart engaged in a quarrel at the Swan home, according to authorities.

"Artistic don't you think?"
"I suppose so, but it doesn't look Russian," Jindra.

FANCY SCARFS
A scarf of figured silk is one of the most approved ways of breathing up the suit or dress of serge or twill. Such costumes feature the sheer one of chiffon or broadened georgette.

MR. C. REED, LOCKBOURNE, O.
Mr. Clark Reed, who works with the Buckeye Steel Casting Co., living at Lockbourne, O., is delighted over his experience with Kadak. He says: "A few weeks ago I was on the Main street market and felt decidedly lame, as I was suffering from an acute attack of rheumatism and felt as though I had a million pins sticking into me. I ran across a friend of mine and he noticed my condition. He immediately told me that he had a little Kadak and that he would help me. I took some Kadak and, take it right away. I acted on his advice and took home three bottles with me. After I had taken Kadak for a few days I noticed a wonderful change in my condition. I continued taking it regularly for several weeks and am now completely well. Kadak not only relieved my rheumatism, but helped my system and made me feel stronger and better in every way. I am working every day, eat heartily, sleep well and stand up to my work as well as anybody. Kadak seems to have done all the rheumatism out of my system. I don't mind my duty as I feel about it. I don't mind my duty as I feel about it. I don't mind my duty as I feel about it."

Who Shave

Never Such a Delight Known as "BUDDY BROOKS" the Toilet Powder for Men. Not a Talcum.

If you use powder after shaving you will find improvement in "BUDDY BROOKS" over ordinary "Talcum".

If you quit using a powder because you "chafe" or "sting" you will surely make "BUDDY BROOKS" a daily habit.

"Buddy Brooks" is an after-shave powder.

It is a "face powder" for men. It is lighter than any other "face powder" like a "face powder". It is made with no other ingredients than those thought in mind than to please MEN.

UNIVERSAL MOTOR CO.

THE YELLOW SEVEN: THE DAUGHTER OF CHAI-HUNG

BY EDMUND SHELLEY
ILLUSTRATED BY
R.W. SAMPSON

ONE SERVICE INC. 1923.

This unusual series of stories deals with the exploits of "Chinese" Pennington, a detective sent by his government to British Borneo to run to earth The Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits.

Pennington met Brabazon standing outside the Rest House at Jesselton, his hands stuck in his pockets, following with evident admiration the easy, elegant gait of a Malay girl who was making her way toward the harbor.

"Pennington, by all that's wonderful!" the taller man extended a hand. "I've been here three solid months—and I didn't know you were on the island. How are you?"

"Fit as a fiddle! Come in and have a sling." "Chinese" Pennington looked at his watch.

"I can give you half an hour, old son," he told him. "I'm due at the Commissioner's at four."

He followed Brabazon up rickety stairs to the veranda that overlooked the road. He dropped into a chair and his companion perched himself on the arm of it, beaming all over his broad, handsome face.

"Still at the same game?" he inquired, pushing forward his case. Pennington nodded.

"Still hunting down the world's worst criminals? No thanks, I roll my own."

He produced a rubber pouch and began manipulating the flimsy paper.

"The boy came in with the drinks Brabazon had ordered, and Pennington smoked until he had disappeared."

"The Yellow Seven is a card-like an ordinary Chinese playing-card he said. 'You know the things; as long as my forefinger, with rounded ends, black on one side—and a series of dots on the other—some red, some black.'"

"And this one?" "This particular card has a bright yellow face, with seven dots on it. In all—four above a faint line—and three below it. It cropped up some time back, when Lady Stornaway's diamond pendant disappeared from Hewitt's bungalow."

"I remember it," broke in Brabazon. "But the Commissioner got that back in a couple of days."

"I got it back," continued Pennington. "I'll tell you all about it some day. There was another card connected with the Allison case, and a knife, bearing the same grim symbol on its handle, preceded an attempt to assassinate the Commissioner of Police himself. Now the whole island's seething with the cursed things and Hewitt won't hear of my leaving until I've secured the body of the ring-leader—dead or alive."

"Know who he is?" "The most respected Chinese gentleman in Borneo," declared the other.

Brabazon dropped into a chair. "Not Chai-Hung?" he whispered. "Why not?" demanded Pennington.

"Good Lord! He hangs out within a stone's throw of us! I'd have staked my last dollar on Mr. Chai-Hung."

Brabazon emptied his glass. "Why don't you collar him?" "I've been within an ace of doing so, more than a score of times; but he's found a way out each time."

Brabazon felt for another cigaret. "I run across him only yesterday," he drawled.

Pennington sprang to his feet. "You—met—Chai-Hung?"

"Thanks," returned Pennington warily. "I fancy you'll be in one league long."

"Good enough!" Brabazon rubbed his hands together in anticipation.

"In the meantime, keep your weather-eye open for Chai-Hung!" He paused and looked to where the waters of the bay glistened in the light of a sun that was low in the western heavens.

"It's a weary world, Brabazon," he continued. "I used to delight in these occasional wanderings, these wild up-country treks. I suppose it was because I had nobody to worry about but myself. I fancy that if I manage to pull this through, I shall hand in my resignation. I wonder if you'll understand me. They kidnapped Hewitt and his sister came with me to look for him. A subtle change has crept over me ever since. I find myself a great deal too solicitous about my own welfare. Queer, isn't it? Cheerio!"

Brabazon went back to Ketatan by the morning train. He had not seen Pennington since their meeting at the Rest House, but he had run into a lively crowd of brother-planters and government men, and the climax of the "celebration" that followed had been something in the nature of a disaster! A dull throbbing at his temples reminded him of this.

Brabazon was a planter of experience. He knew just how much a coolie could be expected to do in a day. As he went the rounds on his Bajan pony he encountered nothing but veiled insolence, and tasks half done.

It was close on sun-down when he regained his bungalow. He stumbled up the steps and dropped into a cane chair. He was wondering who it was that had sown the seeds of rebellion in the minds of his men.

By sheer force of habit, he reached for his glass and, as he did so, something passed his cheek so closely that he felt the wind of it, and stuck, quivering, in the wooden wall behind him.

Rabbi A. Schapiro said, "What this town needs more than anything else is a commercial club, an association of merchants who would work in unity for the upbuilding of Portsmouth. Such an association, or club, could do much good in bringing ex-couriers here to annual meetings of all kinds. Too much money is sent and spent out of town."

Stanley Prichard estimated there were 3,000 bicyclists in Portsmouth and he was of the opinion the county commissioners should make some arrangements to build a cinder path around the flag, or to fronton. He declared that the wheelmen would be willing to pay a dollar each toward the proposed improvement.

No Bones Broken

Mrs. Dorothy Martin of Nauvoo fell on Cactus avenue, Nauvoo, this morning and suffered a badly sprained ankle. The accident occurred in front of the Charles Henderson home and Mrs. Martin as carried inside and made comfortable. She fainted four times while the ankle was being bandaged. Her sister, Mrs. George Yeagle, of 1923 Seventeenth street, was sent for and she took her to the office of Dr. George Martin, where it was found that no bones were broken. Later she was returned to her home.

Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Mollie Maxey underwent an operation for gangrene near the ankle today at the home of Mrs. Joseph Bailey, 1507 Union street. The leg was amputated about ten days ago in getting out of an automobile. About eight months ago Mrs. Maxey underwent an operation for gangrene, which developed in her hand.

Remodels Store

Thomas M. Carver, formerly of 3012 Walnut street, who recently purchased Escom Wiley's general store on the Minford pike, has remodeled the building and now has one of the most up-to-date rural stores in this section.

Mr. Carver has moved the store back from the roadway, has raised the foundation, and built a new porch. He is carrying a complete line of groceries and is also handling dry goods and shoes. He has also made provision for the selling of ice cream and cold drinks.

Brown Promoted

Joseph Brown, 2355 Eighth street, has been promoted from a B. & O. brakeman to conductor. He passed his examination yesterday.

Turtle? No!

This is a sample bed bag that may be found in this section of the state. Should you find, then, during house cleaning time, don't worry about it, as it is made from the use of the New Chemical P. D. Q. (Peaky Devils Quietus).

No matter how large they may be, colorless or where they came from, P. D. Q. will kill them and their eggs as if liquid fire had hit them.

Not an insect powder, no dust or muck; will not injure clothing, and will actually kill Moths, Roaches, Cooties, Bed Bugs, Fleas and Ants and puts an everlasting to the Peaky Devils, as it destroys future generations. Impossible for them to exist with its proper use.

Get from your Druggist's a 30c package; this will make a quart; each package contains a patent sprout to get them in the bed-to-spread places. Special Hospital and Hotel size makes five gallons. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in liquid form in a handy bottle with patent sprout in each package. You see what it can do for you.

Such an association, or club, could do much good in bringing ex-couriers here to annual meetings of all kinds. Too much money is sent and spent out of town."

Stanley Prichard estimated there were 3,000 bicyclists in Portsmouth and he was of the opinion the county commissioners should make some arrangements to build a cinder path around the flag, or to fronton. He declared that the wheelmen would be willing to pay a dollar each toward the proposed improvement.

Henry H. Webb, 20 year old, was granted a license to wed Lizzie E. Boyles, 20 years old.

No Bones Broken

Mrs. Dorothy Martin of Nauvoo fell on Cactus avenue, Nauvoo, this morning and suffered a badly sprained ankle. The accident occurred in front of the Charles Henderson home and Mrs. Martin as carried inside and made comfortable. She fainted four times while the ankle was being bandaged. Her sister, Mrs. George Yeagle, of 1923 Seventeenth street, was sent for and she took her to the office of Dr. George Martin, where it was found that no bones were broken. Later she was returned to her home.

Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Mollie Maxey underwent an operation for gangrene near the ankle today at the home of Mrs. Joseph Bailey, 1507 Union street. The leg was amputated about ten days ago in getting out of an automobile. About eight months ago Mrs. Maxey underwent an operation for gangrene, which developed in her hand.

Remodels Store

Thomas M. Carver, formerly of 3012 Walnut street, who recently purchased Escom Wiley's general store on the Minford pike, has remodeled the building and now has one of the most up-to-date rural stores in this section.

Mr. Carver has moved the store back from the roadway, has raised the foundation, and built a new porch. He is carrying a complete line of groceries and is also handling dry goods and shoes. He has also made provision for the selling of ice cream and cold drinks.

Brown Promoted

Joseph Brown, 2355 Eighth street, has been promoted from a B. & O. brakeman to conductor. He passed his examination yesterday.

Clearance Of Millinery
At Five Dollars

If a new Hat meant a large expenditure, there might be some excuse for making your old hat do, but since every Hat in our large display costs very much less now, that you would have had to pay for it as recently as last week even, there is really no reason why you shouldn't finish the season in as good style as you started it.

And of course, if you choose a fine Leghorn or Milan, it may always be re-trimmed a second season. At FIVE DOLLARS you can choose any hat in stock. Originally, some were selling at three and four times the amount.

Clearance Of Millinery
At One Dollar

For this in-between season, when the Spring and early Summer apparel shows so plainly a need of change, one of these hats now on sale, will be most adequate.

For these Low Prices now in effect, as Low as $1.00, are more than advantageous. For such a tiny sum, you may purchase a Hat as smart as we have had all season—one that will transform your appearance for those many weeks of Summer still ahead.

Catholic Priest Convicted Of Forging Liquor Permit

DENVER, COLO., July 26.—Father William A. Grace, a Catholic priest, today stands convicted of forging a liquor permit and faces a prison term of from 1 to 5 years and a fine of $10,000 or less. He was found guilty in Federal Court here today by a jury that deliberated only 10 minutes. Two other charges of alleged violation of the prohibition laws are pending against him.

Father Grace was committed to jail, John McCann, assistant U. S. district attorney, explaining that he would not be eligible for release under bond until after motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment have been filed. Counsel for the defense were expected to file the motions tomorrow.

Sharp Rebuke For Anderson

NEW YORK, July 26.—A sharp rebuke was administered Tuesday to William H. Anderson and the Anti-Saloon League, of New York, of which he is Superintendent, by a special grand jury, which last week returned three indictments charging him with grand larceny and forgery, handed down two additional indictments alleging extortion.

The jury termed statements issued by Anderson and the league, after the first indictments and a presentment urging legislative investigation of the dry organization. The statements said yesterday's presentment reflected on the jurors' integrity.

Charges are Resented

The jurors resented charges that politics had played an important part in their findings and made it clear that the recommendation for a legislative probe has originated with them and not with Assistant District Attorney Pecora. Foreman Arthur Williams added that not one of the jurors was aware of the political affiliations of the others.

Speculation is rife. Politicians to-day were busy speculating on whether the league would be investigated by the Legislature as recommended by the grand jury.

The most Indecent Indictment ret," said Mr. Anderson in a signed statement, "is the denial in the grand jury that there is anything political involved."

The request to the Legislature to investigate the Anti-Saloon League shrieks of politics and turns this denial into a confession.

Criqui And Dundee Clash Tonight

NEW YORK, July 26.—Eugene Criqui, world title holder in the featherweight division and Johnny Dundee, the Italian-American contender, will meet at the Polo Grounds tonight in a 15 round championship match.

Boxing experts were all sure who the winner would be, but they were sure in opposite directions. One faction held that Criqui would be unable to land his deadly punch on Dundee as he did on Kilbane and would become flustered and perhaps open up just enough to let the contender put over the winning punch. Others said that the champion's title-winning jab would be as effective on Dundee as on the former wearer of the featherweight crown.

The battlers both claimed to be sure of winning and said they were in perfect physical condition. In the semi-final bout Irish Johnny Edwards will box eight rounds.

FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Yankees put still another step between themselves and Cleveland, their nearest rivals when Dugan's hit in the ninth inning in Philadelphia yesterday drove in Witt for the winning run, ending the game 5 to 4. The Athletics had the game all their way through the seventh innings, the score then standing 4 to 0, but in the eighth, the Yankees tallied four runs, tying the game.

The Browns and the Indians, playing in St. Louis, took a run apiece in both the fifth and sixth innings, and then neither scored again until the eleventh inning, winning 3 to 2. The Pirates, playing on their home grounds, won from Boston 5 to 2 and 10 to 3.

Tonnage Is Moving Faster Than It Is Replaced, Resume Of Sheet Mills Shows

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 26.—Iron Trade Review today said: New business in iron and steel both in orders placed or requirements initiated again is developing a definite tendency to expand. While such indications are not general, some of the largest producers for the first time in several months, have brought up their bookings where it equals their shipments. With most companies tonnage still is moving off mill books faster than it is being replaced, but this margin is not wide and unfilled orders still are so large that nowhere is anxiety for business being shown.

A thorough canvass of conditions by leading mills shows that cancellations and suspensions of steel tonnage by consumers at present is well within normal limits.

Broadening activity in building undertaking more plainly is shown this week by the volume of structural steel awards and inquiries. Drying of oil tankage for the storage of excess production remains one of the liveliest spots of the market. At Chicago more than 30,000 tons is pending. On the Pacific coast, 10,000 tons of new inquiry is up.

The automobile industry largely retains its strength. The large builders and those making popular priced cars still are operating and scheduling their production rapidly, though the smaller plants are down to probably 50 per cent activity. Parts manufacturers are running 75 per cent.

Leading producers of sheets and tin plate still need semi-finished steel from outside sources to meet the requirements of all their customers. An inquiry from Pittsburgh calls for sixty-five thousand tons of sheet bars and billets.

More signs of revival are being shown in pig iron as prices having gone below the cost line for some producers, now appear better stabilized. More furnaces have gone out of blast and others are less inclined to meet minimum quotations and at Buffalo, the valleys and elsewhere some sellers have stiffened schedules 30 cents to $1.

Kirby Is Alleged To Owe Discount Co. Upward Of Million

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 26.—Affidavits for the attachment of property belonging to Joseph Kirby, former President of the Cleveland Discount Company, were filed by receivers for the company in Common Pleas Court last yesterday, claiming Kirby is indebted to the company to the extent of $1,497,024.81.

This amount is said to represent purchase price of certain shares of stock in the company, money advanced to Kirby by the company and money expended by the company in his behalf, all items arising from contracts.

The receivers seek to attach $3,000 claimed to be owing Kirby by three persons and money and other property due or belonging to Kirby and believed to be in custody of others. Before leaving here recently for Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. Kirby declared he owed the company nothing whatever.

Mrs. Hannah Cochran appeared in Municipal court Wednesday and pleaded not guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property and her hearing was continued until August 2 to give both sides an opportunity to bring their witnesses into court.

Evans And Sweetser Playing High Class Brand Of Golf

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—(By the A. P.)—Three Chicagoans including the defending champion, Chick Evans, two New Yorkers, including Jess Sweetser, national champion; one Ohioan, a Missourian and a West Virginian today contested the four 36 hole matches of the third round in the western amateur championship at Mayfield Country Club as a result of yesterday's two 18 hole matches.

In the upper bracket, Sweetser played Dexter Cummings of Chicago, while Evans faced Lamproct, the only surviving Cleveland player.

In the lower bracket, Ira Couch of Chicago holed brassies with Gardner of Buffalo, while Clarence Wolf of St. Louis battled Joe Wells of East Liverpool.

Evans played the best golf yesterday, being under par easily on both his uncompleted rounds and showing some of his former crispness and accuracy from which he has slumped at times recently.

Screen Actor And Actress At Altar

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 26.—James Kirkwood, motion-picture actor and director, and Lila Lee, screen actress, were married here today. In obtaining the license the bride revealed her true name to be Augusta Apple and gave her age as 38. The groom gave his age as 40. This is the third time Kirkwood has been married. Before going into pictures five years ago, Miss Lee was known in vaudeville as Cuddles Edwards.

CURFEW ORDINANCE RESTRAINED

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 26.—The city's six o'clock evening curfew ordinance on auction sales was restrained from acting until the next term of circuit court in September in the case of Philip Geisinger, Third avenue merchant, through a temporary injunction granted yesterday by Judge Lively of the state supreme court of appeals.
The high court order followed the filing of a suit by Geisinger Saturday in circuit court against the city, mayor, commissioners and police chief, to restrain them from interfering with auction sales in the evening.
Geisinger was arrested for holding an auction sale after six o'clock recently and he appealed a $25 fine assessed by Police Judge Homer Melrose.

RUEL FARM WILL BE SUBDIVIDED

Henry B. Ruel's famous Raven Rock farm of 330 acres, situated on the Lower River road, three miles west of Portsmouth, has been subdivided into small tracts which will be offered for sale at public auction on Tuesday, July 31.
The sale will be conducted by Horner brothers, renowned twin auctioneers of Ashville, North Carolina, who recently bought the farm and put it up into desirable suburban home sites.
The sale will start at ten o'clock in the morning and a new Ford automobile will be given away absolutely free during the day and those attending will be entertained from time to time by a native Hawaiian String Band, reputed to be the best musicians ever brought from Hawaii.

Hiram Johnson Says America Should Stay Out Of World Court And League

NEW YORK, July 26 (By the Associated Press).—Senator Hiram Johnson of California declared last night that America would stay out of the World Court and the League of Nations and insisted that the nation's foreign policy should be decided at the polls in 1924.
Senator Johnson, who returned Monday from Europe, where he talked with leading statesmen of many countries, expressed his views at a dinner given in his honor by a committee composed largely of men who supported the late Theodore Roosevelt in his third party campaign for the Presidency in 1912.

The chairman was Colonel H. H. Lander, while George Henry Payne, active in state Republican politics and a campaign manager for Roosevelt, was vice chairman. Mayor Ryan, of New York, whose administration is supported by newspapers owned by William Randolph Hearst, was among the guests.

Prominent Men Present
Others on the committee included Colonel John J. Byrne, Marcus Loew, Charles M. Schwab, Louis E. Ryan, Shipman, Congressman A. B. Rossdale, Colonel Ross Miller, Walter S. Dryfoos, August Becksher and E. F. Albee.

Many friends of the Senator have boomed him as a Presidential candidate next year, and it was noted with interest that his views on America's entrance into the World Court directly clashed with those set forth by President Harding.

"Nobody in Europe cares a rap for the International Court," Senator Johnson declared. "Many may care very much whether we get into it. Nobody expects a World Court to solve any provocative international problems; but many expect if the United States is on the way not only to the League of Nations, but to full participation in European affairs."
"However, well intended," he added, "it is a dreadful thing to tell our people that the International Court will stop war, or that it will have the slightest effect upon wars. It is an utterly futile agency for peace—it cannot and will not prevent wars and it does not pretend either in its organization or in its operation to do so. It has jurisdiction of nothing, except what countries may choose to submit to it, and the four great members—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan—have specifically declined to submit to its compulsory jurisdiction."

No Political Significance
Senator Hiram Johnson said the meeting was without political significance and his address merely was to give his opinion on international affairs as he had seen them during his visit to Europe.

Senator Johnson asserted he could not "forgive the man who decides this nation's future solely by the present apparent necessity of partisan politics."

"What we condemned under a Democratic administration, we will not accept under a Republican administration," he declared.
"If one tenth the effort now being made to take us into Europe were devoted to taking our own country out of this distress and want, we would have a happy, contented and prosperous people."

"I suggest to my conservative brethren that recent events indicate they must choose whether progressive things will be done in a conservative or in a radical way. You may have to take progressivism or radicalism will take you."

Old Questioned Opened
"Though you and I thought it had been decided in 1920, the old question recurs. If it must be decided again, I insist it shall be honestly and fearlessly decided. Let's have no pretense, let's make the issue so plain that even some of our most distinguished statesmen cannot dodge it."

Senator Johnson summed up the present European situation by declaring that England pursues the policy of the commercial supremacy of England; France is determined to maintain her continental preposition and her world power; Germany disarmed, sees her fairest industrial provinces seized and dreams of a future day of reckoning; Italy blindly announces the Italian policy of "nothing for nothing" Italy for Italy; while the Balkan States retain the capacity for involving their greater neighbors, and with but one or two exceptions still cling to the good, old Balkan method of changing ministries by assassinating Ministers.

BOY SCOUTS WILL BE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED AT LIGHTHOUSE BEACH

On Friday, July 27, the Boy Scouts who are in camp will be the guests of the management of Lighthouse Beach. This party is being given as a result of the efforts of a local man who is promoting it for the benefit of the boys and girls who are at the Scioto County Children's Home.
It is to be an all-day affair. Starting from the Boy Scout camp at 9:30 o'clock in the morning the Scouts will take their lunch and eat it at Lighthouse Beach, and in the early afternoon there will be held a "field day" under the auspices of the Boy Scouts of America. Each boy and girl who is present, including the Scouts from the camp, will be eligible to enter the events of this meet, some of which are 50-yard running for girls and 50-yard running for younger boys, 100-yard running for older boys, three-legged race, sack race, potato race for boys and girls, and other events.
A very interesting afternoon is being planned by those interested. The management announces the acquiring of several nice prizes given by the following merchants, Ohio Valley Wholesale Company, Wurster's Drug Store, Kay Graham Music Store, Play House, Hibbs Hardware Company, House, Shoe Company, Excelsior Shoe Company, Henry Roth, Smoke House, Alex Glocker, J. W. Reilly, J. F. Davis Drug Co., and others. Some of the prizes are dolls, box candy, baseballs, footballs, kodaks and shoes.
Following the "field day" events, the children will be given some entertainment by the Lighthouse Beach band and entertainers and following that the Scouts will be guests of the management for supper. The evening's entertainment will be given by the regular program given by the Lighthouse Beach management and the public is invited to attend all these events, especially the parents of Boy Scouts who are in camp.

Mr. Frick Says Equipment Should Be Housed

Storage of government property in control of Battery B and the Combat Train, local National Guard units, in the open weather on the sidewalk on Third street near the Armory, is the subject of a communication President Adams Frick of the Chamber of Commerce has sent to Lieutenant Theron Matthews in charge of Battery B. In his letter Mr. Frick not only calls attention to this waste of government property by letting it stand out in the weather at all times, but also that its storage there does not do other property in that neighborhood any good. The local National Guardmen are now in training at Camp Knox, Ky.

JACKSON WOMAN OWNED HOME OF MARK TWAN, DESTROYED BY FIRE

A former Jackson woman, Mrs. Margaret E. Givens, owned Mark Twain's former home, Stormfield, situated at Redding, Connecticut, which burned early Wednesday.
Mrs. Givens is well known in this city and is a former resident of both Columbus and Jackson.
She is the daughter of the late Captain Eben Jones, Jackson capitalist, and sister of the late Hon. Edwin Jones, one time candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. John E. Jones, head of the Globe Iron Co., at Jackson, and Newton Jones, Columbus capitalist, are interested in Scioto and Adams county oil projects, are also brothers.

The July issue of the "Ohio Sportsman," an illustrated monthly magazine published in Cincinnati, by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, contains an interesting article on the Theodore Roosevelt Game Preserve on the West Side, by Arthur H. Harper, an amateur naturalist, and member of the editorial staff of the publication, who recently spent some time on the big wild tract with Conrad Roth, Game Protector Frank Voorhees, and Assistant Forester B. E. Leete.
"An Amateur Naturalist at the Roosevelt Preserve," is the title of the article which is supplemented with a number of pictures taken on the refuge.
The "Ohio Sportsman," is edited by A. C. Baxter, former Chief of State Fish and Game Division of the

Cough Kept Him Awake At Night

Inability to Obtain Sound Sleep Upset Mr. William Ferguson's Nerves
"For three years preceding the time I started to use World Tonic there was not a single day, to my recollection that I felt just exactly right," says Mr. Ferguson, 308 Campbell avenue.
"My trouble was due to the fact that I had such a bad stomach. It seemed that about once a week regularly I would be taken with a severe attack of indigestion. At these times my stomach would throw and pain like a jumping toothache for at least twenty-four hours. And after the agonies of the attack passed away I would be so weak and nervous that I could scarcely move around."
"I had also a little backing cough, which came on early in the evening. No doubt this cough was caused by my stomach, as I have often heard of a 'stomach cough.' Anyway, it would keep me awake the greater portion of the night, consequently I felt tired and worn out in the mornings and my nerves were all upset from loss of sleep. I would be compelled to lie down at frequent intervals during the day owing to weakness and because I could not sleep well at night."
"Only a few days ago I commenced to take World Tonic and already it seems to be helping me. I have not had a severe attack of indigestion since I began using it. I sleep very good, too. While I have not taken World Tonic long enough to say that it has made me a well man still I have such great confidence in it that I am going to keep right on taking it, for it has certainly helped me more than anything I ever took before."

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEAN-UP SALE of Seasonable Merchandise

Starts
Tomorrow
Ends
Saturday
August 4

We do not advertise great bargain offerings every day, but there is a time each year when we must clean up the goods we have in the store. You have taken advantage of our Clean Up Sales before, and it will pay you to do so again this year for we are offering goods from every department at the greatest possible reductions to move our stocks and make room for Fall merchandise. The sale starts tomorrow morning, continues Saturday and all next week with new and amazing values every day. You may profit by our necessity of cleaning up stocks. Don't fail to grasp this opportunity, it means real savings.

APPAREL AT SEASON-END CLEARANCE PRICES

Suit Prices Cut To The Limit For A Quick Clean Up

We intend to sell all that remains of our stock of this season's suits. They are made of the best materials and styled correctly. They are values you can not afford to pass up. Look at these prices.

SANDUSKY, OHIO, July 26.—The Matthews Engineering Company, of Sandusky, a subsidiary of the R. E. Dollings Company, was put in the hands of a receiver to-day by Judge John Williams. In Common Pleas Court, Judge Williams, last Friday, ordered the receiver appointed, after a hearing of stockholders, who desired to preclude any action in the Franklin County receivership action. J. W. Welch, President of the Matthews Engineering Company, was named receiver.

The Dollings Company owns the common stock of the Matthews Company, and the latter is now in the hands of a receiver. The matter is now being heard by the court, and the outcome is so far uncertain.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 26.—George Allingham, 65, was killed at most instantly last night when a wall of a building adjoining his boarding house collapsed and buried him beneath the wreckage. With several other boarders Allingham was sitting in the room following the accident when the Allingham family's newspaper and had just read the account of the death of his nephew, James Kelly, who was struck by lightning and killed when swimming in the Ohio River at Dayton, Ky., Tuesday. Shouting a warning when several of the boarders were in the room of the adjoining building, Allingham's companions escaped, but the old man, unable to move as quickly as they, was crushed by the falling wall.

Circus Day Now Topic Of Hour For Small Boys And Grown Ups

Trained Wild Animals that's the topic of the hour for the boys and girls of six as well as those of sixty. The billboards, signs and walls are announcing with all the fluency of a circus barker. And already preparations are being made for the big holiday event of the year. At the time the milkman is making his rounds on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 4, the first of the circus trains will be pulling into the railroad yards.

Much is promised by the management of the John Robinson Circus and Trained Wild Animals this year, as this is the 100th anniversary tour. The show has reached a size that it is causing the railroads considerable uneasiness in handling the various trains. European and Oriental representatives have sacked the Continent and the Far East in quest for novelties, and the question of salary was not considered when it concerned the engaging performers of ability. The greatest collection of wild animals ever exhibited by any circus will appear in the huge steel arenas, and these new features will tend to eradicate the fallacy that "all circuses are alike."

The trained wild animals will be worked by John and Harriett Gullfoyle, not English trainers and Miss Ola Darragh, famous American instructor to savage beasts, while the three herds of elephants will be under the guidance of Chieftain Gardner. The riding displays will be headed by such notable equestrians as the Rudinoff trio and the Bernie Griggs Troupe. The famous Morales family of acrobats, aerialists and wire walkers—formerly featured with all the big circuses—will top the scores of stage and ring offerings. Fifty-one clowns, will win chuckles and howls of glee from the children and those of us who still cherish youth in our hearts.

Farrell Likes Dundee Against Criqui

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, July 26.—(United Press)—The iron jaw of France and the rubber ball of America will meet at the Polo Grounds tonight to decide the featherweight championship of the world.

Eugene Criqui, with the serious face and the crooked jaw, will defend the title that he won some time ago with a great victory over the venerable Johnny Kilbane, against Johnny Dundee, one of the greatest little fighters that ever swung a glove.

Dundee, one of those Italians who sent the poets into reveries about the fighting blood of Caesar, will be at his best, sentimental favorite. He has won tremendous following in New York and his partisans are not confined to the Italian colony.

Criqui proved in the Kilbane fight that he is a worthy champion and a great fighter. He had proved it before, in Europe, but Americans are skeptical about the class of fighters on the other side who helped to give the gallant French war hero of Verdun an impressive list of knockouts.

Dundee is, beyond doubt, one of the greatest little fighters that ever lived. He has been nearer to various championships than any other fighter, with the possible exception of Charley White. He has battled them all, and in most of his fights he was forced to give away pounds and pounds of weight to his opponents.

Various opinions have been expressed on the outcome of the fight, but there is one that should carry weight because he has met them both and he knows both.

Johnny Kilbane, former featherweight champion, leans toward Dundee as the victor, and he predicts that Criqui will have the fight of his life on his hands.

"Criqui is a great fighter," Kilbane says. "He keeps coming in all the time and he is always hitting. He hides behind an upraised shoulder, much after the style of Dempsey, and he is hard to reach on the jaw. He is not an extremely clever fighter, but he has a heart that keeps him coming back all the time. I had no trouble outboxing him and I found that he was easy to hit."

"However, when I found openings I missed many of them. I had been out of the ring too long and my timing was off. I was short with punches that I felt sure were going right to the button, and every time I missed I got a good one back. That French boy can counter."

"Against Dundee, Criqui will have a different fight to carry. Dundee hasn't been out of the ring. He is about the 'tightest' boxer in the business, and when he leads he does not miss like I did. When Criqui cocks his right hand he will not find Dundee standing in the way of it. Like he ought me. Dundee has a tricky style, and if he fights his usual fight Criqui may find so many gloves in his face that he cannot set himself for his right-hand punch."

Puzzling Plays By Billy Evans

THE PLAY

The rights of the fielder and base runner on batted balls to the infield usually make trouble.

There are perhaps a half dozen similar situations in which the ruling varies.

Here is a play that is the cause of many a dispute.

Runner is on second base. The batsman hits a hard grounder directly at the third baseman. The runner on second is going over on the play.

The ball strikes squarely in the hands of the third baseman, but he is unable to hold it, and it is deflected into left field.

The runner going over from second is close to the shortstop, when this happens. The shortstop makes a rush to get the ball and collides with the base runner. The runner gets to his feet and reaches third in safety, the batter going to second.

Is the runner out for interference?

THE INTERPRETATION

The runner is not out for interference. The runner who reached third and the batter who got to second on the play are entitled to hold such bases.

In this case the third baseman made a play on the ball, hence it was of no moment.

If such interferences were allowed fielders would always try to collide with a runner, after some other player had made an error, in an effort to nullify the play.

Arrangements for the bout were concluded today. It was announced by Francis (Pat) Boyle, Omaha promoter. Boyle's announcement made early this morning was followed by a statement by William Kavan, boxing inspector for Douglas County (Omaha), that the Firpo-Smith bout would not be permitted on the ground that Smith was not a capable opponent for the South American conqueror of Jess Willard.

Later, however, after Kavan got into touch with Boyle, he announced that he had "the wrong Smith in mind."

Kester's later said the fight would be allowed.

LUQUE FALTERS, BROOKLYN TRIMS THE RED LEGS, 6 TO 3

CINCINNATI, O., July 26.—Brooklyn pulled Cincinnati back into a tie with Pittsburgh for second place yesterday by winning the first game of the series from the local team yesterday 6 to 3. Luque, who had won seven straight games, pitched brilliantly until the seventh when three hits and a pass enabled the visitors to tie the score. In the eighth Brooklyn found the Cuban for four hits, including a triple by Deberry, which, with a wild throw by Caveney, gave them four runs and an easy victory. A nice pitched fine ball, scoring his sixth straight victory. How the game was played:

First Inning
The pessimistic ones grabbed an early start when Luque whiffed Neis to begin the festivities. Fanning the first man up in an evil omen, the mournful ones avert. Burns followed with a miff of Johnston's fly, but Tommy Griffith obligingly hit into a double play, Luque to Caveney to Daubert. No runs, no hits, one error.

Burns waited afar to Neis. Daubert bounced to Johnston. Bohne walked and was soon nipped, Vance to Fournier to French. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Fonseca tossed out the mighty Fournier. Bailey sent a boulder to Caveney. Deberry was easy on a grounder to Fonseca. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Roush sailed to Bailey. Duncan bounced to Johnston. Fonseca fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

High singled to right. French sacrificed. Luque to Fonseca, covering first. Vance lifted to Roush. Luque threw out Neis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Two healthy swats and two errors by the Dodgers' shortstop meant two runs for Moran's men in this round. He gave started it with a triple to farthest right. Caveney then came through with his eighth consecutive hit, a single over short, scoring Hargrave. Luque sacrificed. Fournier to Neis. Duncan scoring. Bressler hit for Luque and bounced to Johnston. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Johnston singled to right, hit by French. Vance lifted to Roush. Luque threw out Neis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Johnston singled to right, hit by French. Vance lifted to Roush. Luque threw out Neis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Bailey bounced to Caveney, a pre-emptive play. Bohne threw out Deberry. Sweet breezes for High. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Hargrave fouled to High. Caveney's batting streak finally came to an end when he fouled to Fournier. Luque singled to center. T. Griffith made a fine running catch off Burns. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
French bounced to Caveney—a brilliant stop. Vance whiffed. Neis singled to left. Caveney's throw beat Johnston. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Daubert singled to center. Bohne

OH, YOU PIRATES!

PITTSBURGH, PA., July 26.—Pittsburgh went into a tie with Cincinnati for second place yesterday. They defeated Boston in both games of a double header, winning the first 5 to 2, and the second 10 to 3. In the first game Adams held the Braves safe until the sixth inning, when a home run by Felix was followed by doubles by Southworth and McInnis, accounting for all their runs.

The Pirates rallied in the seventh when Russell opened with a triple, followed by sharp hits by Traynor, Maranville, Grimm, Schmidt and Adams, for a total of four runs.

In the second game, Pittsburgh scored six runs in the first inning and four in the second, but was held scoreless the remainder of the way. Traynor hit a home run in the second game. Score—First Game:

Kinks-o' the Kinks
My opponent's ball strikes mine in the fairway and moves it a considerable distance, the ball finally coming to rest in a very bad lie. Must I accept the happening as a break of the game and play the ball from the bad lie or can I replace it as near as possible to its original location before being hit by my opponent's ball? You have a perfect right to re-drop the ball as near as possible to the place from which it was moved. Balls may be placed only on the putting green. There is no penalty.

Playing his second shot in a match game, player's ball lands on the wrong green. Must the ball be played from its lie on the wrong green or has the player a right to lift the ball and drop it from the edge of the green without suffering a penalty? The ball must be played from its lie on the wrong green; otherwise the player would suffer the loss of the hole.

A and B are playing a match game. A reaches the green in three. B's third shot lands in a trap, while A's ball rests within a few inches of the cup. B puts but fails to get out of the trap. Disgusted, he takes a desperate up at the ball. A is standing on the green, apparently at a safe distance and out of line of B's play. The ball shoots off at a peculiar angle, strikes the person of A and then engulphs into the cup. That makes six strokes for B. A looks out in four. B makes the claim that he is entitled to the hole because his ball struck his opponent while in motion.

It is correct. He wins the hole because A interfered with his ball while in motion. It seems unfair since A played the hole in two less strokes. However, rules are rules, and a player must suffer when he interferes with an opponent's ball.

MORE strength to the arm of the department of justice in its new drive against oil stock swindlers, fake promoters and other artists in fraud! The activities of those marauders have cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars annually. The crooks profit by the desire of possessors of a little for a "little more," and they have exploited this desire to their own enrichment by gathering in the shekels of the unwary and the everglibble with sales of worthless oil stock, with promises of fabulous wealth offered by fake promotion schemes, and with other hook-and-crook methods of separating owners from their purses.

The public will always yield something to the bogus oil stock salesman and the fake promoter as long as ignorance responds to the craving for quick and easy money. Protection against such exploitation is the duty of the government enforcement of laws against such frauds with a severity that would impress the swindlers with the prohibitive costliness of their crimes is promised by the increasing activity of the department of justice.

WASHINGTON'S LITTLE JOKE

A "tightwad" is defined by a United States government bureau as a man who saves 60 cents of every dollar, 37 cents of the balance for living expenses, and one cent each for education, recreation and gifts. The spendthrift is described as the man who saves nothing, and the thrifty man is designated as one who saves 20 cents out of every dollar.

There is no doubt that the man who saves 20 cents out of every dollar is a thrifty man. Perhaps the man who saves 60 cents is a tightwad. But inasmuch as the title of the pamphlet is "How Other People Get Ahead" the suggestion is irrefragable that that is how other people get ahead.

If it be tolerable to make further light observation upon a subject so solemn in these days of high prices and normalcy, perhaps the government's experts will parade a few of these men who save 60 cents out of every dollar. The suspicion has been that if the coal dealer didn't get 'em the income tax collector did.

UNSOOUND CRITICISM

A commentator hits an inviting mark when he says that much of the literary criticism now going the rounds is unworthy of acceptance as the last word of judgment on works with which it deals. Sound, healthy criticism is now, as it always has been, worthy of serious consideration by readers. But criticism, like literature and art, is prone to run after strange ideas and to overemphasize the value of novelties and to develop neurotic and decadent tendencies.

It is a fair count against many modern critics that they overrate ugliness as realism and set too high value on the morbid and the distorted, to which certain writers run. When a long-haired critic reviews the works of a long-haired author, the result is not apt to be long in value. In this time of fadism critics owe it to their public to keep level heads and, as far as they are able, to hold against the ugly tendencies that are showing in too many so-called literary products.

A SOVIET BIBLE PLAN

THE official soviet press declares that the Moscow regime may eventually be disposed to "buy" trade relations with America by part payment of debts incurred by Russia. At the same time the validity of those debts is vigorously denied. From this it would appear that the soviet fails to grasp the American view.

It is not merely on the payment of debts that the Washington government lays stress. Its recognition is conditioned on proof of good faith, of which payment of debts would be evidence. The soviet plan outlined by the Moscow press plainly negatives good faith and places debt payment on the basis of a bribe. Thus, even in proposing to pay part of Russia's debt, the reds show their inherent crookedness.

Ireland was geographically misplaced. It ought to have been in the Balkans.

Turks feel the need of money. It is proposed to permit a man to have only one wife.

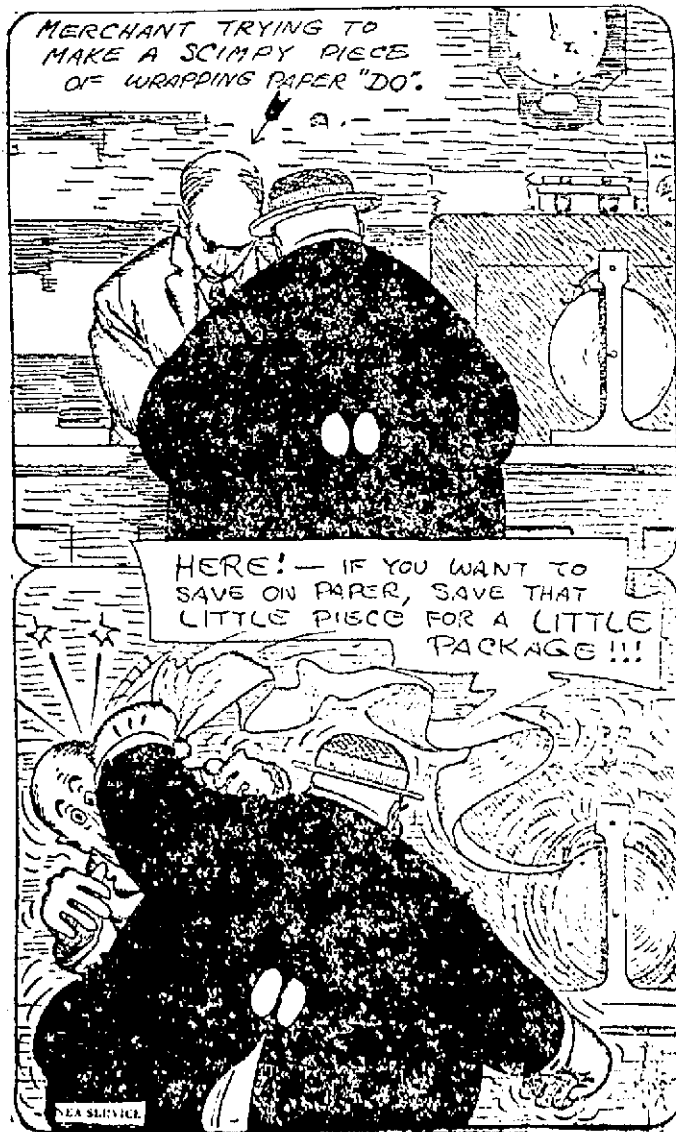

The impression may yet become prevalent that a great many New York models are not.

There will be use for horses so long as automobiles have to be pulled out of the mud.

Egyptian costumes may look like hieroglyphics but the price is expressed in plain figures.

EVERETT TRUE

New York—Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTIRE

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Tenderloin underworld has its tony set just as the higher strata of society. The nobler looks with disdain upon the stunts played. The petting, or safe blow, will not mingle with the porch climber.

The "darbs" of the underworld pack classy titles. Duke Trull is a fashion plate. King Howard and Prince Lerell might be taken for visiting Earls. There are not men with villainous scowls, but silken voiced types that could well grace a smart club lounge.

To such pseudo-aristocrats the lowly leather lifter is a "rat"—the basest epithet of the Tenderloin. Only in closest confidences with gentlemen of their ilk do they resort to crook slang. Their "dolls" are as magnificently gowned as the Fifth Avenue mainlin on display.

The other week a group of Central Office men descended upon a Napoleonic genius of the underworld. They found him in a private house in the East Sixties. He was arrayed in purple pajamas of silk. Two obsequious Jap servants were ministering to his wants.

He drove to headquarters with them in his limousine and, as usual, had his apt and ready alibi and withdrew with his accustomed smile. There is a famous stage beauty whose nightly consort at the cafe is a silver-haired dilettante. His dress is impeccable. He has done three "stretches" up the river.

The high class lawbreaker tries to keep his reputation unsullied in his way. He is not offended at being pointed out as one who lifted a pigeon blood ruby from a Duchess, but to be suspected of "bricking" a Broadway jeweler's window grieves him deeply.

Those in the lower order of crookdom refer to their patrician brethren as "fluff" flyers. There is a story of Murphy the Goat once intruding his presence at a table where sat Victor Adair, a Paris plutocrat of crookdom. Adair landed "flush on the button"—a straight swing to the jaw—and the Goat fell unconscious. When he recovered he apologized. He knew he had violated the unwritten law of the underworld in mingling with his superior in public.

The Spanish shawl with gay embroidery and long fringe is a sturdy note in Midway's evening dress. Huge combs adorn the coiffure. The effort is to look pale and interesting, but with all their subtleties and with more and more compendious—there's an out-of-town word—and a very long cigarette holder must be held in a don't-careish manner.

About ten years ago their romance was the talk of Flash Alley. He roped her with pearls, sent her on trips around the world and established her in a mansion on The Drive when it was the real boulevard of New York. Then the romance cooled. He married and so did she. Recently she returned from Paris a widow. He was divorced six months ago. They were thrown together at a gathering of mutual friends. A few days later, after a whirlwind courtship, they were married. Their married life lasted exactly two weeks. They took separate apartments and now frequently dine and attend the theatre together. He confided to a friend: "What we each wanted was friendship—not romance. As friends, we will be happy. As husband and wife, we were miserable."

This is a story typical of New York told to me by a friend, of unquestioned veracity. A gentleman called him up and said he would like to drop in to see him with some friends. "Fine," said the prospective host. "Who are they?" His friend replied: "My ex-wife and her husband."

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Legend of the Moonflower
When gardens fair exhale perfumes
Of art, myrrh and a dream,
The moonflower by the porch unfolds
Its blossoms in the dusk.

With glimmering disks of pallid pearl
The dark green vine is starred,
As if a host of little moons
Had risen in the yard.

For when at her appointed time
The moon withheld her light
The cricket cried, "I cannot see
To pipe my tune tonight."

The beetle blundered to and fro,
The shadows were so black,
The moth went out and lost her way
And nevermore came back.

So nature, who's fairly queen
In robes of sun and snow . . .
And dewdrop crown (as all of us
Discovered long ago),
Touched with her hazel wand a vine.

A barren vine, and soon,
From every spray and tendrill shone,
A copy of the moon.

The Drawbacks of Religion

Not For Him To Quote
"The Lord helps those who help themselves," quoted the plous bank cashier.
"Yes, in some cases," replied the President of the bank, "but I warn you that the devil and the law are sure to get the bank cashier who tries anything like that."

Wise Jottings
An excuse nearly always goes lame in the home stretch.
Men are obstinate, but women are merely firm in their convictions.
A man often feels the loss of his first wife most after securing a second.
Carelessness with parlor matches is the cause of few fires and many divorces.
Nothing pleases a little man more than an opportunity to crack a big whip.

The earthly tax-dodger is apt to find it difficult to prove his title to a mansion in the skies.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
BEHIND THE MASK
By Berton Braley
YOU can't always tell by their faces
How people are feeling within.
For pain doesn't always leave traces,
Nor joy always show a grin.
You find that each life has its heaven
Of things that go ill or go well;
We each have our own little heaven,
We each have our own little hell.

If every man told you his story,
His innermost secrets and hopes,
His moments of uttermost glory,
The depths in which blindly he
groopes:
You'd find, were he seventy-seven
Or still in youth's glamorous spell,
He lives in his own little heaven,
He writes in his own little hell.

It may be that sometime hereafter
We'll come to a final reward,
A paradise thrilling with laughter,
A harem of tortures abhorred;
But anyhow, life has its heaven
Of sorrows and blisses as well;
We each have our own little heaven,
We each have our own little hell.

37 Percent Of Negroes Leaving Homes In South Come To Ohio, Figures Show

Washington Bureau, Portsmouth Times.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—A great percentage of the negro migration from South to North in the last five years has been directed toward Ohio more than to any other state above the Mason and Dixon line. Investigators for the Department of Labor made this statement today after a careful check of the shift of negro population to the North, showing that by their figures one of every three negroes coming from the South since 1918 has settled in the Buckeye State.

Their inquiry into negro movements was undertaken in consequence of agitation which has begun in industrial circles in both sections of the country—in the South because of loss of labor and in the North because of the unusual influx of cheap workers. Political consequences are also being regarded, though they are as yet of minor importance. Nominally the drift of negroes from the restraint of the South to the greater independence they enjoy in Ohio and other states should mean an advantage for the Republican party. Few colored men vote in the South, but all are expected to exercise this privilege once they come North, and the chief benefit will probably accrue to the G. O. P.

The migration northward began during the war and has been constant since that time. Though the Department of Labor was unable to make a census of the number of colored folk who have actually moved "up North," its officials feel that accurate percentage figures have been obtained. They are based on facts gathered among 19,747 negroes employed in northern industry, of whom 4,702 have left the South within the last year.

Estimates made by the investigators show the following distributions of negroes coming north as to states: Ohio, 37.26 per cent; Pennsylvania, 21.63 per cent; Michigan, 10.53 per cent; New Jersey, 6.4 per cent; New York, 4.75 per cent; Illinois, 4.49 per cent; Maryland, 1.30 per cent; Wisconsin, 0.85 per cent.
The large influx into Ohio is attributed to the fact that it is a "gateway" for migration from the states of heaviest colored population and at the same time affords plentiful employment to unskilled laborers in many lines, with wages much lucrative than those which the new arrivals received in the South.

Livestock Show Will Be One Of Many Features At Lucasville Fair, Aug. 8-11

The one thing that the local stockman and farmer give their undivided attention and support is the annual livestock show at the Scioto County Fair, Lucasville, August 8-11.

There is every indication that it will excel in interest and attendance any previous show. It is the place where the stockmen and farmers get together every year, compare notes and become acquainted with conditions that will affect their business during the ensuing year.

From a business standpoint, the farmer will have an opportunity to purchase new blood, secure pedigreed animals from the best local herds in the county at private and public sales. This applies to cattle, sheep, hogs and horses.

No stockman or farmer can afford to miss this annual gathering. As a business proposition, he should be there whether as an exhibitor or not. At the fair he can gather information that will enable him to handle his business more intelligently during the coming year, and in addition it will put him in touch with market conditions and provide him with a class of entertainment that is both amusing and educational.

The management is making preparations to entertain the largest crowd ever taken care of in the history of the fair. All wants are anticipated.

U. B. Picnic August 2

From the time the first machine goes through the gate at Lucasville Fair Grounds next Thursday afternoon until the last machine goes out not one dull moment will be in store for the members of the United Brethren Sunday school, and their friends who attend the picnic given by the school.

Plans are completed for a real picnic and frolicsome festival and the event will be something to remember next winter by the fireside. Games and stunts are planned galore. One event which is sure to be a feature of the day will be a lobster race, not by real lobsters but by some of the boys of the school. Mr. Bruce Tudor is offering as a prize for one of the events a real honest to goodness chicken, which he is now fattening up for the occasion. The contest for the above prize is something new under the sun and is a real thriller.

There will be free novelties for the children and judging by the interest shown by them in the picnic it will take a carload, more or less, to go around. The committee is sparing no expense however in making the festival one long to be remembered and from all indications the school and their friends will be on the scene of action early next Thursday to enjoy the entire time together.
